DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed on February 23, 2003 has been considered except for the undated Hungarian reference. Without a publication date, the reference cannot be considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Applicant relies on an ASTM reference number and "Type D5" to define a metallic composition. While these designations may be commonly known in the art, their definitions may change or be lost over time. The claims should set forth the actual composition of the alloy.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. Claim 1 is indefinite because use of parenthetical expressions confuses the scope of the claim.
7. Claims 1 and 4 are further indefinite because the ASTM designation and "Type D5" do not adequately define the composition of the alloy.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chalon (US 4830656). The features of applicant's claims can be found in col. 2, lines 53-60 and col. 3, lines 43-64. Note that a zero endpoint for the claimed sulfur concentration reads on no sulfur in the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chalon in view of QIT (Ductile Iron Data for Design Engineers).

Art Unit: 1731

12. Chalon teaches glassware molds having controlled thermal conductivity and containing compacted graphite in amounts controlled through magnesium and titanium addition. Chalon did not teach iron-nickel alloys satisfying the claimed composition ranges. QIT taught that the claimed alloy composition ranges were well known for use in ductile iron alloys used in glassware mold manufacture (see Table 5.4 "D5", page 5-9 "Specifications and Recommendations" and 5-15 "Thermal Expansion"). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the techniques disclosed by Chalon with an alloy disclosed by QIT, because Chalon taught that the thermal properties of the alloy depended on compacted graphite.

Conclusion

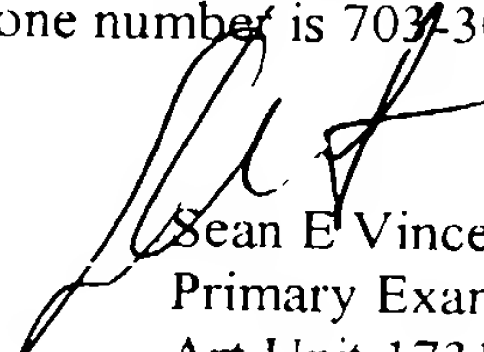

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is cited to further show the state of the art.
